Eckstone, and untying the knot that had been tied up by the Lawmakers in the seventh inning.

Howard pitched for the Tobacconists and allowed but three hits, two of these being made in the seventh inning, and the other one coming in the ninth inning, after two men were out. Eckstone was appead for eight hits, but kept them so well scattered that had his team batted babled him he could have want the game.

so well scattered that had his team batted behind him, he could have won the game. Both of Danvillo's runs, however were earned, and the one tally that Richmond chalked up was likewise carned.

Hicks was the boy that kept the Lawmakers from being shit out. He laced out a two-bagger that was a corking one in the seventh inning, and Doran who had annacked a single a few minutes before this, came across the plate by very good base rouning. Doran got two of the hits that are marked against the southpaw from Danville, who has been pitching such good ball for the Tobacconits since he landed with them. Hicks got one out where there weren't any players and made the one run for the locals.

Some Good Playing.

Hinton, of Richmond, and Doyle, of Danville, did the stellar work for their teams. Hinton got a foul ball back of the plate that crowned him a hero in the eyes of all of those who visited the game. Howard knocked the ball and it sailed high into the air and would have landed on terra firms within two feet of the press hox. But the game little windpad artist as Richmond was in the game, and after a wonderful run he gouled up the ball. He was going with such speed that he run into the grandstand after taking the ball in his mitt. Boyd took one ball that was driven wary fast over the second base. Hicks sent the sphere whizing down the line and Doyle, after a great burst of speed, trek it in one hand and tossed it to first, catching Hicks before he could land safely. The play was a close one, but Doyle had certainly covered a lot of ground.

putting out four men and assisting six others to the cemetery read. His batting percentage was .750.

Hicks was a great star in the game, also, handling everything that came near the third-base line and doing good work at the bat. He did his part to win the game, but Danville was in the hitting business and Eckstone couldn't stop the Double-Header To-Day.

To-day there will be a double-header, and Billi and Long will likely pitch. Evans, the man who gave Richmond a shut out in one game and a hard run for her money in the second one when he was here before, will pitch in one of the games to-day. He may twirl both games. Richie will pitch in the second game if Evans does not feel very well.

second game if Evans does not feel very well.

Richmond is now in fourth place and wants to win the double-header to-day in order that she may so shead of the loys from Danville. Here is the official score of yesterday:

WON FORTUNE ON SELLING PLATER

PAUL RAINEY

Rainey Brothers Engineered Biggest Coup of Season at Saratoga Yesterday-Had Lost Heavily on Other Horses.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

BARATOGA, N. Y., August 17.—Roy and Paul J. Rainey made the biggest selling of the season at the Saratoga track today. After the defeat of their two highly-prized horses and the loss of a small fortune on them, they won close to $40,000 by the fleotness of Heasilp, their $500 selling plater.

The Cleveland millionaire turf men bet $60,000 on their horse. It was the biggest but they had made this summer. Spurred on to wagering this amount by previous losses on Horace E, and De Mund, they engineered this coup for the purpose of

Outplayed at Every Stage of the Game by Lynchburg.

(Special by Southern Bell Telephone.)
ROANOKE, VA., August 17.—To-day's game went to Lynchburg by the score of 5 to 2. It is not the same hard-luck story. Roanoke was outplayed in every stage of the game, 57x hits were all that the Highlanders could secure from Ries, and some of them were of the scratchy kind.

The Shoemakers on the other hand; connected freely with McKnight's delivery, putting twelve base hits to their credit. The supert given to Lynchburg was excellent, while that of Roanoke was regged, the only redeeming feature being the sensational catch by McShane of a line drive, while two men were on bases. Had Roanoke used head work on bases, the score would have been tied in the seventh, but this was sadly lacking. The some of them were of the scratchy kind. TOOK BOTH GAMES.

Portsmouth Outplayed Norfolk and Won Both Games Handily.

(Special by Bouthern Bell Telephone.)

NORFOLK, VA., August 17.—Captain Charles Bland's Truckers sprung a genuine surprise and at the same time mightly humiliated Otto Wells's Tercentennials this afternoon. They took both games of the double-header, and, to rub it in, handed the locals a box of pills in both contests. The Tercentennals had not even the satisfaction of knowings that the games were won and lost by any chance play. It was superfor baseball that won and inferior baseball that lost. Manager Clark and his men could not get out the best ball that there was in them. The mighty Shumann pitched both games for Portsmouth. Norfolk's mighty men of valor fairly quaked before him, and were overcome by the mighty men with the greatest case. Nine lonely hits in two games, five in one and four in the other, is the record of the stick work against him, and Won Both Games Handily. five in one and four in the other, is the record of the stick work against him, and when the last game was over he was apparently as strong as at the beginning. He gave one less hit in the latter game than he did in the first. The nearest Norfolk came to scoring was in the oighth inning, when three men managed to get on bases. Heddy Foster was at the bat, and, like Casey, struck out, and with the strike out went Norfolk's last chance to score. The score:

Chestnut Hill.

The most interesting of the games scheduled for to-day should be that between the Locos and Inkslingers. The last meeting of these teams produced a stubborn fight, the result resting with the Locos by 5 to 4. Both sides are determined to win.

The Chestnut Hill diamond has been agrand and relied during the wook, the scraped and rolled during the week, the grass in the outfield out, and everything possible done to warant a fast game. Ex-tra cars will be run from Seventh and Broad Streets, and a goodly crowd will attend.

Strang and Hay will do duty for the Locos, and Walker and Stout (battery).

Sutherland, Ricketts, Fry, Goldback, Smith, Cardner, Donahue or Brannan will line up for the Inkslingers.

Chinamen at West Point.

It seems to be the fashion nowadays for the teams of the Amatour League to run an excursion out of town and take the team along that they are scheduled to meet on Saturdays, playing the game at Wost Point. The initial success of this plan must be ladd to the credit of the Locos, who entertained the Snowballs in this manner last Saturday. The Snowballs on enjoyed their trip last week that they are making the experiment to-day, but their guests are the strong team of Chinamon. The Snowballs have every intention of serving out some of the same kind of medicine they did to the Locos, and expense to trim the Chinamen. Should they meet with a share of the success that followed last week's trip, it will pay the expenses of their team for the whole season. Chinamen at West Point.

JIU-JITSU FOR DEFENSE.

Mr. Sommerville Says It Is In valuable to Man Under Attack.

valuable to Man Under Attack.

Mr. Horbert Sommervillo, who, with his brother, Bob, is giving exhibitions of Jiu Jitsu, the Japanese art of wrestling, at idlewood, when seen by a Times-Dispatch reporter yesterday had the following interesting remarks to make:

"Jiu Jitsu is used by the Japanese more as a means of self-defense than anything olse. It is only in the last few years that the linglish-speaking race has discovered that the little men from the Orient are not to be despised when it comes to a mix-up with them. Sallors who have landed in that country and became disorderly, or resisting any of the Jap policemen, have suddenly found themselves with a broken shoulder of dislocated ankle.

"If do not say Jiu Jitsu is superior to the American style by any means, but it is a good thing to know when you are attacked by some one much stronger and heavier than you. Any man or woman can learn enough in a few lessons, and by practice a little each day to take care of himself in case of an attack.

"Jiu Jitsu is a good thing to understand; it is all powerful in its mystery, but simple as A B C when once mastered. It came natural to the Japs because they were so small they had to devise some means of overcoming brute strength."
